

Sometimes
mums and dads
have problems,

Which means
they can't look
after you.

When this happens,
mums and dads and
social workers talk about this. Sometimes other people like
judges can be asked to help. Together
these people will
find you another
very special family
who will adopt you.

In this family
the grown ups will
love you and keep you safe.
You will be their child.
They will be your
new family.

As well as always looking after you
they will talk to you
about your birth
family and they will have a special book
or box for you all
about you and your
birth family.
